

Uncover Relics of Ancient Indian Culture

Indian pottery and weapons found at 159th and Crawford, during construction of the Cook County Cemetery, indicates Indians were in the area for some 2000 years, according to George I. Quimby, Curator of North American Archeology at the Chicago Natural History (Field) Museum.

Upon examination he said it is certain that the artifacts predate the Potawatamies, associated with southwest Cook county because of the habitation from 1750-1832.

With the ground peppered with pieces of flint, the former farm land was most certainly an Indian chipping ground, where they prepared arrow and shaft heads. But this does not necessarily indicate a warlike nation, Quimby says.

The pottery and weapons indicate two distinct Indian shaped stone also found nations and eras, according to Quimby, naming the Woodland and Upper Mississippian. He believed they entered the area from the Illinois River Valley around 1300 A.D.

The arrowheads indicated the Middle Woodland Period, which is from 100 B. S. to 700 A. D. As the digging for 2000 graves commences Quimby said small triangular points will probably be found.

Examining the fragment of pottery, a portion of a vase's rounded throat and patterned shoulders, Quimby pointed out particles of shell imbedded in the clay. He said the Indians put ground up shells, available from the lake bottom of the area, into the raw clay mix before firing. The fragment indicated construction was by hand, on a coil, without a wheel.

The pottery pattern indicated an Upper Mississippi nation of farmers, and more pottery should be found in the area.

Flicks of green on pieces of flint were copper stained, according to Quimby's analysis, indicating other materials used by the Indians. Some pieces of flint he labeled as knives or scrapers.

The largest piece found at the site was a grooved maul, or hammer. An irregular shaped stone, it is about the size of a cantalope, with an inch wide indentation circling the rock; around which a leather strap was fastened to secure it to a handle.

Another find was unmistakably a hatchet or adz, the Indian cutting or chopping tool. A smaller red stone indicated its use as a hammer in flint flaking. A grey wedge could have been either Upper Mississippi or Woodland.

Evaluating findings is just one of the many services provided by the Museum.

Carl K. Schmidt, Jr., Superintendent of Oak Forest hospital, has notified the University of Illinois Archeological survey of his findings and invited them to investigate to further their study.

The county's first cemetery will have provisions for 12,000 graves for indigents and unclaimed bodies, designed to accommodate the next 25-50 year period; according to the present rate of interment of 265 bodies a year, in adjacent Potter's Field where burial is by mass interment in a single trench, Cook county will no longer use the Potter Field system, it was announced recently by County Commissioner Dan Ryan.

Are Psychiatry and Religion Enemies?

By REV. JOHN J. LYNCH
Paulist Feature Service

Psychiatry and religion are not enemies; they work together. Psychiatrists have found that sincere religious convictions are a great help towards mental health. Priests and ministers of religion know that a healthy mind is necessary for a healthy religious outlook.

But religion is not a substitute for psychiatry—any more than it is a substitute for surgery. Nor is psychiatry a substitute for religion. Psychiatry is a branch of medicine—not a religion.

To understand why some people confuse the relationship between religion and psychiatry, you must know something of the history of psychiatry.

Sigmund Freud (1856-1939) was the first explorer in the field of psychiatry. He thought he had found a substitute for religion. But, like many a great explorer before and since (Columbus, for instance, thinking America was India) he failed to identify the new territory opened up by his genius and labor. Instead of finding a substitute for religion, he provided a help-mate for it.

Many psychiatrists today—ever thankful for the tools and techniques pioneered by Freud—see the true relation between psychiatry and religion.

Thus, Dr. C. G. Jung, Freud's best known pupil, wrote, "Among all my patients over 35 years old, there has not been one whose problem in the last resort was not that of finding a religious outlook."

And Dr. William C. Menninger, founder of the famous Menninger Clinic, agrees with Jung: "Christ Himself, centuries ago, laid down one of the principles of mental health that we now recognize as of paramount importance—'For whosoever will save his life shall lose it, but whosoever will lose his life for My sake will save it.'...It is still a magnificent precept. If you can follow it, you will never live to make a date with a psychiatrist."

Psychiatry only becomes the enemy of religion when it tries to act as a substitute for religion—by denying such truths as the existence of God, the nature of man (made in the image and likeness of God), and man's obligation to follow God's moral law.

In such a case, psychiatry is no longer a branch of medicine, but a false religion.

Roy Richardson of 155 Front st., Mokena, plans to erect a brick building directly to the west of his present butcher shop establishment.

The new building into which the business will be transferred when completed, will be 24 feet wide and 48 feet deep. It will provide more space and help him to better serve the community.

The merchant does not yet know what the total cost of the building will be.

Row Over Halting Surface Water Flow Embroils Neighbors in Suit

(CNS)—A Superior court fight over drainage is brewing between 14 Parklane Estates and five John M. Powell subdivision property owners in Palos township.

A lawsuit filed by the Parklane Estates residents seeks $25,000 for damages to their property allegedly caused by drainage water which backed up and flooded the land.

The suit asks that the defendants, residents of the Powell subdivision, be permanently restrained from obstructing the natural flow of drainage from the plaintiffs' property. It also asks the court to order the removal of obstructions from a culvert, a natural channel, and a tile underdrain.

The plaintiffs' property is located just west of 100th avenue between Powell road and Parklane drive. The defendants' property is just east of 100th avenue and south of Powell road.

The plaintiffs contend their property is elevated slightly above the defendants' causing the drainage—surface water to flow east and southeast over the defendants' land into the west branch of Mill Creek.

The suit charges the defendants with constructing a 300-foot private roadway along the west boundary of their land on a two foot high embankment without providing sufficient culverts to carry off the natural drainage of surface waters from the plaintiffs' property.

It also charges that a deposit of dirt and other materials in the bed of the natural channel is obstructing the drainage flow.

The defendants have dumped debris into the east mouth of the only existing culvert, also obstructing the drainage flow, the suit charges.

The suit further charges that You're an average family if—in the postwar years you've added six new electrical appliances. Shown here are a few typical examples.

This is why you're using far more electricity nowadays than you did a few years ago. And why life is a lot easier. But of all the things you buy today, electricity has gone up less than almost anything else.

So, while your bill may be a little higher, electricity is actually doing nearly twice as much work for the money now as it did years ago.

See how little it costs to run each of these electric helpers.

We Like Senator O'Neill

There is a move to defeat Lottie Holman O'Neill for re-election as state senator of the 41st district, which is made up of Will and DuPage counties.

This move, it should be stated to keep the record clear, was originated by, and is confined to, Senator O'Neill's Democrat opposition. The senator, in case there is anyone who doesn't know it, is a Republican.

She has served the district ably and well, and with her the interests and well being of the district and its people come first, ahead of party or political combinations.

Senator O'Neill has been an important figure on the Illinois legislative scene for many years and this experience, plus her political acumen, an aggressive spirit and her honesty make her invaluable to the district.

Unable to level any criticism against her on her record, the senator's opponents have been compelled to fall back on the device of last resort in politics—the demand for "a change" without giving any valid reasons for it.

Senator O'Neill's opponent has a reason for such a cry, of course, and in his book it is valid indeed—he wants to get his feet under the public table again.

We do not wish to cause undue alarm because we feel certain that Senator O'Neill will be re-elected, but folks, it looks like the fellow has been a New Dealer bureaucrat, and we are afraid he has not reformed.

He is an Ivy Leaguer with a degree from the Yale university school of divinity but he doesn't say in a sketch sent out to the voters whether he has ever been active as a pastor. He was a practicing bureaucrat, however, for eight years, some apparently under that great champion of bureaucracy and big government, F. D. R. Well, lets look at what this aspirant to the state senate has to say regarding himself and we quote from his message to the voters:

"He was a senior administrative officer in the U. S. department of agriculture and assistant chief of the migratory farm labor camp program; senior fair practices examiner for the President's committee on fair employment practice, and chief of youth activities, U. S. Zone of Germany, immediately following World War II when policies were established and democratic youth groups revived."

He also says he has had four years "in local and national youth organization leadership . . . and 11 years of educational leadership in cooperative organizations . . . And is now educational director of The Cooperative League of U.S.A., a national federation, where he directs conferences, publishes books and pamphlets, arranges film productions, edits a monthly bulletin."

And now, heaven help us, he wants to be a state senator.

We think he is sheltering his light. We think he should extend his talents to a larger field, say planning better things for the Eskimo or the Hottentots. He should do very well in congress too, particularly on junkets.

The sketch says that he conducted a tour last year thru seven European countries. This should not only make him a junket leader but also qualify him as an expert in shaping foreign policy.

We are glad we have Senator O'Neill.

equalities in the assessment of personal property and that is the excuse usually advanced by persons who refuse to pay personal property taxes. Some say they don't pay because the tax is illegal.

They were never more wrong. The personal property tax law is not only on the books but the courts have passed on it long ago. It's legal all right but only occasionally are there elective officials who have the courage to enforce it. The treasurer's office and the state's attorney's office in Will county have been successful in collecting some of the personal property taxes that have been in arrears. A shorter, snappier method is needed if results are to be obtained.

A lot of school districts would have their financial problems solved if people paid their personal property taxes.

Persons moving into Will county from Chicago give most of the trouble. They aren't accustomed to paying personal property taxes. In Chicago and Cook county the politicians use the personal property tax to get votes.

And speaking of taxes, those big, breathtaking bites by the Federal government—let's not be too careless with parceling out the blame. Each of us has a responsibility. Big Government has gotten that way because people have gotten into the habit of asking Washington to do things they could do for themselves.

Complaints have been drifting north from Texas that its population is growing too fast. More population, it was pointed out, means more state services and more state revenue is needed to pay the bill.

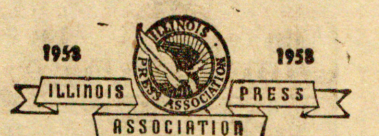

Some may ask why Texas is complaining pointing out that the increase in the number of residents should mean more taxpayers and more taxpayers should mean more taxes.

The Texas state tax study commission says un-unh,, it doesn't work out that way. The population of Texas, it seems, is growing fastest in the "under 18" and "over 65" age brackets. These age groups, it is said, don't pay their way.

The solution is simple. Just take 'em out and shoot 'em.

Question About Drainage
Editor: We understand that special assessments for draining off the county slough at 167th and OakPark ave., are being considered for New England and Sayre avenues. Why should residents of these streets alone shoulder the County's bills? Where were our village officials when the county decided to drain the slough off on Tinley Park? Asleep at the switch?

Perhaps this problem is the result of political ambitions which exceed the boundaries of Tinley Park? Here is one taxpayer who has no intention of assuming either the inconvenience or the expense of political patronage.

Lions Dedicate New Lenox Ball Field

DEDICATE BALL FIELD at New Lenox. The program, last Sunday, was a combination affair staged by the Harry Anderson post, VFW, and the New Lenox Lions club. A tournament of Small Fry teams in the Lincoln-Way high school district was arranged as part of the program. The picture above, taken at the beginning of the championship tilt Sunday afternoon, is different from the run of the mill photos of this nature. Mayor Lloyd Berlin just didn't toss out the first ball as is customary. He got right out in the pitcher's box, wound up and cut loose with his fast one. True, the ball was wobbling a bit as it got to the plate but it got there. Mayor Berlin found himself in the same condition as Lefty Gomez, the once ace pitcher for the Yankees. Said Mr. Gomez in the twilight of his career, "I throw just as hard as I ever did but the ball doesn't go as fast."

Manhattan Wins District Small Fry Tournament

Manhattan's Small Fry team won the Lincoln-Way district championship in a tournament sponsored by the New Lenox Lions club last weekend as a part of the dedication of a new ball diamond.

The diamond is located in the park owned by the Harry Anderson post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, west and north of the village.

The ball diamond is to be known as the Harry Anderson Field. The land has been leased by the Lions club for a nominal sum and the Lions have built the diamond and installed a backstop, bleachers and dugouts for the teams. They have also erected a refreshment stand.

Manhattan won the championship by defeating Frankfort 6 to 5 in 10 innings, and then taking New Lenox 8 to 3 in the final game last Sunday.

The victors played Frankfort on Saturday and on that same day New Lenox beat Mokena, 4 to 1.

The Lions presented shoulder patches commemorating the event to the members of first and second place teams.

The dedication ceremonies were conducted Sunday afternoon, with Don Wennlund, international counselor for the Lions, as master of ceremonies. Participating were Frank Goetschel, president of the New Lenox Lions, C. L. Kasing, immediate past president of the club, Edward Archer, commander of the VFW post at New Lenox and Mayor Lloyd Berlin. The VFW also furnished a Color Guard for the occasion.

Orland Swamps Tinley 9 to 1; Tigers Wind Up Season Sunday

The Orland Park Police league team came to Tinley Park Sunday with guns loaded for Tiger meat—and they got it. The Orlands gave the Tigers a 9 to 1 drubbing to climb into the third place in circuit standings.

Not to take anything away from Orland it should be explained that the Tigers were somewhat shorthanded. They were able to field but nine players so the only depth to their bench was the width of the board on which they sat when it was their turn to bat.

Yogurt Hehnlein, of Mokena, who has been doing the catching for the Tigers, was absent as was their other pitcher, Schuldt. Big, blond Yurtis, with a stride that seemed to bring him half way to the plate, held the Tigers to three hits.

As a matter of fact Orland wasn't hitting too well either. Bressi and Romanenghi held them to four hits but the Tigers pitchers had trouble finding the plate and gave up a total of 21 walks. Toss in some wild pitches, passed balls, and some miscues afield, and there you have the story.

The Tigers scored their only run in the second. They filled the bases on a hit batsman and two walks and on a bunt laid down by Romanenghi Klepper got home.

Orland scored three runs in the top of the second, all unearned and added three more in the sixth when Beneditto led off with a single, followed by Gorney with another base knock.

Carroll walked to fill the bases and Blues unloaded them with a triple. The Orland scored three more in the seventh for the final score of 9 to 1.

Next Sunday, Aug. 10, the Tigers will meet Matteson at Tinley. This is a make up game for the one rained out June 8, and will be played in Memorial Park at 4 o'clock. The reason for the late start is that a double header softball contest had prior rights to the park on this date.

The Police league has finished play for the season, except for Tinley and Matteson, and is now looking forward to the playoffs to determine the champion. There are north, central and south sections of the league and the playoffs will be staged at dates to be announced later.

Midlothian, the undisputed winner of the South section with 10 wins and no defeats, will enter the playoffs with high hopes.

Kerner O.K.'s Oak Forest Annexation

(CNS)—County Judge Otto Kerner has approved a petition to annex 243 acres north of Oak Forest to the village.

Judge Kerner's order directed that the question of annexation be submitted to the village's board of trustees for consideration.

Objections to the petition by the Southwest Civic Council and the Forest Ridge Property Owners Association were dismissed on the grounds that the civic groups' members are not property owners or electors in the area to be annexed, according to Attorney Vincent R. Ewald, representing the two groups.

Clara Mayling, 17215 67th avenue, Tinley Park, withdrew her objection to the petition, Ewald said. Judge Kerner allowed Attorney George J. Rohen to file an appearance as Oak Forest Village Attorney following the death last week of Attorney Arthur Grosskopf who had represented the village.

The area sought to be annexed is bounded on the north by 147th street, on the south by 159th street, on the west by Central avenue and on the east by Long avenue.

The annexation petition includes six acres at the northwest corner of Central and 159th street but excludes 7.4 acres in the southwest corner of Long avenue and 147th street.

The petitioners are owners of record, of more than 50 percent of the land in the territory seeking annexation and they represent a majority of the electors, according to Judge Kerner's order approving the petition.

Members of the two civic groups which opposed the petition reside in Evergreen Park, Oak Lawn, Alsip, Palos Heights and Chicago's South side.

Cardinals Hold Try-outs for Baseball Talent at Lockport

Lockport will be one of the sites of the Cardinals' tryout camps when the Red Birds will look for potential big league talent. The tryouts will be conducted at the Lockport Athletic field, Aug. 7, 8 and 9 it was announced today by farm director Walter Shannon.

Experienced talent hunters will set the young aspirants through their paces 'starting each morning at 10 a.m., and all players between 17 and 23 are invited to take part.

Stressing the importance of tryout camps to an organization like the Cardinals, currently fielding teams in 14 minor leagues in every classification, Shannon emphasized that, "Major League talent must be developed in the minors. We believe that the Cardinals have the know how and best system for the patient development and advancement of young players."

"We regard the Lockport area as fertile baseball territory," continued Shannon, "and expect a good turnout. We're hopeful, too, of coming up with some bright major league stars of the future. It is a real opportunity for an ambitious young fellow with a desire to get into professional baseball. If he has the talent we're looking for, the Cardinal organization is the one to develop it and get him to the big time. Many baseball greats of the past and today, you know, are products of tryout camps such as this one."

The Cardinals will supply the balls, bats, and catching equipment with each boy furnishing his own glove, shoes and uniform if he has one.

Any player signed to a contract with one of the Cardinal operated clubs will be reimbursed for his expenses incident to attending the camp.

To take part in the tryouts an American Legion player

Tattersall Seeks 25-lap Win Saturday

Bob Tattersall of Streator, a "specialist" at long distances this year, will seek his first 25 lap feature victory Saturday night in the midget auto races at Joliet Memorial Stadium.

Tattersall, with victories in both of this season's special 50 lap races but none at the conventional distance, has started the long pull up to become one of the track's top ten drivers. The point standings currently are headed by Willie Wildhaber of Lexington, Ill., who has three feature race victories to his credit.

Other drivers who have been making bids recently to join the top ten listings include Paul Kerber of Elgin, who captured the semifeature last weekend; newcomer Danny Kladis of Chicago, third place winner in the feature last weekend; Dick Atkins of Joliet, with a consolation race victory to his credit; and another newcomer, Bob Tomlinson of Oak Lawn who won the handicap race for the six fastest qualifying cars.

Also in the lineup Saturday will be such standbys as Bernie Wilhelm of Joliet, B. U. Abraham and Johnny Meyers of Chicago, Don Chapman of Aurora, Dom Dellegrazie of Evanston and Newt White, of Lockport.

Saturday's program will include a 25 lap feature, preceded by four heat races, the handicap and 15 lap semi-feature. Time trials start at 7:30 from either his Legion coachpm, and the first race at 8:30 pm.

Methodists Tighten Grip on Lead in Tinley Church Softball League

STANDINGS

	Won	Lost
Methodist	6	1
Zion Lutheran	5	2
St. George	3	4
Reformed	0	7

Last week the Methodists strengthened their first place lead, taking two decisions from the Reformed church. Wednesday evening, Ken Webster, Methodist pitcher, gave up two runs on only four hits, while his team mates were blasting the opposing pitcher for 17 runs and 22 hits. Al Sipple and John Bock led the Methodist hitting attack with three apiece.

Friday night St. George and Zion Lutheran staged one of the finest played contests of the season. Lutheran came out on top five to one, with four of their runs coming in the first inning on two Catholic errors. After the first inning it was a defensive exhibition. This loss dropped St. George to three full games behind the leaders, while the Lutherans remain one game down. Methodist gained an extra 1/2 game on both of these teams when it defeated Reformed again on Friday in a make up game that had been rained out early in the season. Reformed is now six games out of first place.

This week St. George will try to knock off the Methodist on Wednesday and Reformed will still be looking for its first win, when they meet Zion Lutheran on Friday. Both games will be played in Memorial park and will start at 7 p. m.

Little Leaguer Jack Doll, Hurls No-Hit Game

The first no-hitter of the season was pitched in Little League by Jack Doll of the Tinley Park team against the Cards.

A sacrifice in the last inning scored a run for the Cards who were beaten 4-1.

The Cubs still hold first place in the Little League standings, close behind are the second place Sox. The Tinley Park team in third place may be a strong contender to the first and second place teams.

The Cards have run into a little bad luck. The Braves, last year's second place winner, are still holding down last place and are definitely out of the race.

Power Firm to Improve Service for Suburbs

(CNS)—The Commonwealth Edison company has taken steps to serve residents of eight South Suburban municipalities with electrical power in the future.

At hearings before the Illinois commerce commission in Chicago, the utility asked authority to acquire a 4.3 mile 175-foot strip of right-of-way for a 138,000 volt transmission line and sub station to be built in 1962.

The line will run from Edison's sub station to be constructed at 109th street and LaPorte in Oak Lawn to a line now under construction at Midlothian road just east of Cicero avenue in Crestwood.

The right-of-way will pass thru Oak Lawn's south side, Alsip's east side, and the west side of Robbins and Crestwood.

Bulk power supplied by the proposed line will serve Chicago Ridge, Oak Lawn, Worth, Palos Park, Evergreen Park, Homewood, Alsip, and Merrionette Park.

"The land we seek to acquire is in an area relatively uncongested at the present," said Richard Cudahy, Edison's attorney. He told the ICC that expected population growth in the area would make it harder to acquire the land in 1962.

Cudahy said that Edison and community officials have worked together in selecting the right-of-way's location so that it will fit with the overall development plans of the municipalities.

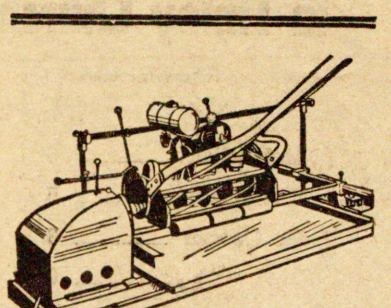

Edison is negotiating with the owners of 19 parcels of land needed for the right-of-way strip, Cudahy added.

The power line will be constructed at a cost of $550,000, said W. E. Nelson, an Edison engineer. The line will be supported by wooden poles and steel towers, he added.

No one opposed the utility's proposal at the hearing before ICC Examiner W.W. Smith.

Frankfort, Mokena Boards and Plan Groups to Meet

The village boards of Frankfort and Mokena and the planning commissions of both communities will meet in the Frankfort village hall Friday night to discuss the hiring of planners to draw up a land use map and recommendations for the area.

The Mokena village board is said to be in favor of such a project and there is also considerable backing for it reported at Frankfort.

No action can be taken Friday night, it was explained, but it is possible that an expression of opinion will be available.

Mokena Board Orders Weeds Cut

Owners of lots in Mokena on which weeds are growing are required to mow them, according to village ordinance. At the village board meeting this week some complaints were received concerning weeds. The board ruled that when owners do not cut weeds the village will do it and the charge for such services will be made a lien against the property.

A representative from the state highway engineer's office at Elgin advised the village not to do anything about the streets until next spring, other than to make them passable. Burglars Break Into Bowling Lanes Again

For the third time in the past year burglars have broken into the Tinley Park Bowling lanes. The last entry was made sometime last Saturday night or early Sunday morning, Aug. 2 or 3. Approximately $30 was taken from two cash registers, according to the report in the headquarters of Dist. 5, state police, and the Will county sheriff's office.

The thieves broke the door leading into the office, apparently intending to ransack that but apparently were frightened away before they could carry out their plan.

Entry to the place was made by breaking a window. Traces of blood outside indicated that one of the burglars cut himself in going out the window, the report stated.

The burglary was discovered shortly before 8 o'clock Sunday morning. A bowling machine was pried open the coin box had been emptied Saturday and it was not believed that it yielded any cash.

ICC Takes Orland Park Bus Case Under Advisement

(CNS) Whether to grant Suburban Transit System's petition to initiate bus service between Orland Park and the Loop has been taken under advisement by the Illinois Commerce Commission following oral arguments last week in Chicago.

Eagle Bus Lines, the Chicago Transit Authority, and the City of Chicago argued before the full commission to dismiss Suburban Transit's petition.

The two bus companies and Chicago contend that the ICC can authorize a temporary operation only in emergency cases. Suburban Transit seeks to operate for 60 days to see if the route is a profitable one.

The objectors also contend the applicant failed to show the necessity of its proposed operation. Attorney Herbert Johnson, representing the CTA and Attorney Samuel Grossman representing Chicago, told the commission that "they don't want additional bus lines running over the city's crowded streets."

Eagle Bus, which operates to the race tracks at 35th st. and Cicero ave., doesn't want Suburban Transit to carry persons to the track from the Greyhound terminal in the Loop.

Eagle Bus charges $1.25 a ride from the Sherman hotel in the Loop to Hawthorne and Sportman's park race tracks. Albert Meserow, Eagle's attorney, said that under the proposed route Suburban Transit would offer the same same ride for 65 cents.

Meserow asked that Suburban Transit be ordered to "keep its doors closed one mile north and south of the tracks."

Suburban Transit seeks to operate between Orland Park, Palos Park, Palos Heights, Worth, Chicago Ridge, Oak Lawn, Cicero, Stickney and Chicago.

The bus line proposes to operate three round trips daily from 143rd st. and West ave., in Roberts road, 135th st. Harlem ave., 111th st., Ridgeland ave., 95th st., and Cicero ave., thru to the Loop.

The line has agreed to do no local service between the Loop and 87th st., except to pick up transfer passengers at 79th and Cicero from its present 79th st. route and passengers returning to the south suburbs from the race track that had ridden to the track via Suburban Transit.

Attorney C. A. Caplow repudiated that the line plans to put a sign on its buses labeled "To Race Track." Meserow earlier said that Suburban Transit would do this.

Caplow said that residents of south suburban municipalities have asked for the direct bus service to the Loop.

"The population is growing by leaps and bounds yet there is no direct service to the Loop," Caplow told the commission.

"People want to avoid transferring from one bus to another," Caplow added.

In answer to charges by CTA and Chicago attorneys that Suburban Transit's buses would increase congestion on Chicago streets, Caplow said that 40 or 50 persons riding one bus would cause less congestion than if they all drove cars into the Loop.

Caplow pointed out that Eagle operates only during the racing season in Chicago, about 60 or 70 days, whereas Suburban Transit would operate every day of the year.

A one way cash fare from Orland Park to Chicago would cost 65 cents, a ten ride ticket between the two points would cost $7.50 and a monthly ticket good for 54 rides would cost $5, according to William Biggers, general manager of the bus line.

FARM NEWS

For Cook County by

W. F. Whiteside

assistant farm adviser

Cook County 4-H members have just completed an exciting week at beautiful Camp Shaw-Waw-Nas-See, near Kankakee. The program was packed with many activities from 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. These activities included swimming, sports, square dances, crafts, nature studies and citizenship ceremonies. Over 200 4-Hers took advantage of the week at camp. Those attending from this area were: Richard Wille, Glen W. Adair, Lawrence Sons, Robert Butzer, Allan Stader, Robert Stader, William Steller, Robert Sederock, Kenneth Uthe, Jack Uthe, Bill Miller, Charles Ludmer, Bob West, David West, Paul Growald, Richard West, Norman Siekman, James Bussema, Larry Heusmann, Fred Sinew, Charles Carroll, James Addyman, Thomas Addyman, Andy DeBoer and Jim Walters. Carol Schmaedeke, Jean Siemsen, LaVerne Siemsen, Janet Butzer, Dianne Cappel, Carole Stader, Joan Uthe. The counselors were: Ty Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert West, Mrs. R. Collen, and myself.

The South Cook 4-H Fair will be held August 16 at Rudy's Woods, 143rd Street (Midlothian Turnpike) between Ridgeland and Central Ave., Tinley Park. Since the Fair has been shortened to one day, the entire program will be devoted to judging the 4-H exhibits. Mrs. Harwood Stellwagen, Mokena, is making arrangements for a lunch stand on the grounds. Floyd Adair, chairman of the association board of directors, reports that various committees are working hard. The plans call for a fast moving but interesting program during the day. Everyone is invited to visit the Fair and see the results of the efforts of 4-H members in project work during the past year.

Always think safely. There's just no substitute for it.

Milk production has been leveling out in recent months after increasing continuously the previous two years. The leveling out apparently has been due in some measure to the currently favorable prices for beef cattle and hogs and to unfavorable weather conditions in some areas. The drop in dairy support prices on April 1, 1958, also seems partially responsible. With the leveling out in milk production, less milk has been used in making butter and cheese. And government purchases of those items under the price support program have been reduced.

A state farm management tour will be held on Sept. 3 at the Albert Gehlbach farm, Lincoln, Illinois. This is a 280-acre farm in Logan county which efficiently produces 1,000 to 2,000 hogs every year. Special features include a grain storage and feed mixing setup that has been used successfully for many years. This farm uses labor saving methods that will work on any farm. The public is invited.

Farmers who are not taking full advantage of the Federal and State motor fuel tax refund on gasoline used for non-highway purposes are adding a large amount of unnecessary expense to their operating costs. The total of these two refunds comes to 8 cents per gallon. This amount represents approximately one quarter to one third of the original cost of the gasoline.

A Plowing contest for the agricultural 4-H members will be held Saturday, August 9 at 12:30 p.m., on the H. Schultz farm on 147th and Central ave. We have received many entries from contestants for this great event. All contestants receive a prize.

After visiting a number of sweet corn fields and talking to a number of growers it appears that the corn borer and the corn earworm are beginning to cause considerable damage. The corn borer can be controlled by applying DDT at the rate of 1½ pounds per acre as a spray. Arrange two or three nozzles per row to cover the upper 1-3 to ½ of the plant. 20 pounds per acre of 5% DDT granules will also give good control. For control of corn earworm, use DDT at the rate of 1½ pounds per acre. This should be combined with a highly refined horticultural oil which helps stick the DDT to the silks of the plant. Use about 2½ gallons of this oil per acre and add enough water to make about 25 gallons of finished spray per acre. This should be done every three to five days.

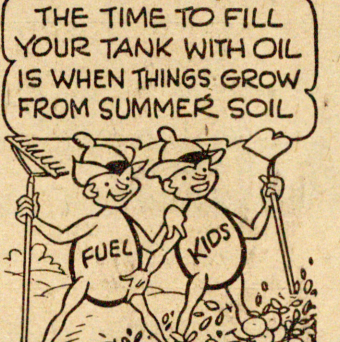

The maple tree has come in for more than its share of attention this past week. Homeowners have brought in quite a large number of specimens showing leaf galls and cotton-like deposits on the stems. There is little that can be done for the galls on the leaves at this time. If your tree is mature and has been growing vigorously, chances are it won't do any damage; however, they could kill a young tree. If you have had a problem like this, better make plans for next year to spray with Malathion before the leaves come out on the tree, preferably about the time the buds begin to show. The cotton-like masses are the trade mark of the cottony maple scale, a sap sucking parasite which could do considerable damage to a young tree. Malathion sprays will get rid of this pest also, and you can apply it now or as soon as you have evidence of an attack by the cottony maple scale.

A word of caution about the use of 2,4-D weed sprays. 2,4-D is very effective against many broad-leaved weeds; however, it is extremely toxic to certain vegetable crops and particularly tomatoes, and also to flowers and ornamental shrubs. 2,4-D vapors could cause injury to sensitive crops more than a mile away. Persons using 2,4-D and causing damage to sensitive crops, may be inviting trouble in the form of misunderstandings and possible law suits. Here are some precautions to follow in using 2,4-D: Use the Amine form, since it is less volatile and does not give off dangerous fumes for several days after application, as does the Ester form; do not spray when the wind is blowing towards sensitive crops; cut spray drift by using nozzles giving a coarse spray; and keep spray nozzles close to the ground.

Discover "Bug" That Resembles Polio Virus

Coxsackie virus has been isolated from a Joliet patient who had an illness resembling poliomyelitis, reported Dr. Felix A. Tornabene, the Will county health officer.

This virus is frequently found in patients with mild polio-like infections. Dr. Tornabene stated that the majority of patients infected with coxsackie virus recover completely. However, this virus can occasionally cause an illness associated with paralysis.

Dr. Tornabene reported that at the present time he is checking specimens from several patients for polio and other related viruses.

The situation in Will county is extremely favorable at the present time, since only one case of poliomyelitis has occurred this year.

Experts Believe Worst of the Mosquito Season Over for 1958

Authorities of the South Cook County Mosquito Abatement District are cautiously predicting that the worst is over in terms of mosquito annoyance for the 1958 season. The general picture over the 340 square mile district as revealed by the light trap counts for the week ending July 26, released today, shows a continuing decline in the Aedes vexans population. This is the mosquito with the highest nuisance rating. From the July 5th peak of 255 vexans mosquitoes per trap night over the District, each successive week has shown a drop until the average for the week of July 26th, is now 13 per trap night which is below nuisance level.

Residents of the district whose memories go back to this time last year can confirm what the district's light traps show: the average per trap night for the week ending July 26 last year was 215, compared with the present average for all species of 38 per trap night. Last year residents were on their way to experiencing their peak annoyance of Aug. 2, an all time high for the District following the July 12 floods which inundated thousands of mosquito breeding sites in one swift rush.

Barring a recurrence of last year's flood, it seems safe to predict that the district will not experience a late summer emergence in anything like last year's proportions.

For the week ending July 26, the highest counts occurred in Maple Lake, Orland Park and Chicago Heights, with counts 111, 75 and 91 per night respectively. Fortunately for the residents of the Maple Lake area, about half the count for their trap is accounted for by a permanent water breeder, Uranotaenia sapphirina, which does not bite man. The lowest traps for the same period were Oak Lawn with 11 mosquitoes per night, Harvey with 10, and 95th Street in Calumet township with only 5.

As the vexans production drops over the District, the production of the domestic mosquito, Culex pipiens, a polluted water breeder that is not a severe biter, is on the increase. The average per trap night for this species over the district has gone from 57 for the week ending July 5th to 271 per trap night for the week ending July 26.

The district's major control efforts are being addressed to this particular species because it seeks out human habitation and annoys with its alter lights out song, even though its bite is much less severe than that of the flood-water mosquitoes.

Abatement District officials in releasing these figures point out that the light trap counts from the 15 permanent locations throught the district give an objective means of estimating general mosquito activity, but that they know that some individuals in particular areas are experiencing greater annoyance than these figures indicate since mosquito populations do not occur in uniform numbers throughout the entire 340 square miles.

Rhode Island was the first state in the Union to build its own airport.

IT'S A FACT

Inflation and the price spiral are hurting everybody, and until taxes come down and monopolistic labor leaders halt their incessant demands for wage increases in excess of productivity, the paycheck at the market will continue to buy less. All surveys now show that business and industry are being squeezed by rising costs and the smallest profit margins in years.

Invites Residents to Meetings of Property Owners Association

By Dorothy Goble
Phone Kellogg 2-3696

Thru the ages, men have worked to fulfill the inherent desire to build a better world. This desire has prompted millions to leave the land of their birth and come to America, to provide better opportunities for their children.

We, their children, are just as desirous to promote better conditions for our children.

Although only a small community, the residents of the Southlands have established homes here, not for themselves, but for their children.

To make the community a clean, safe place to live and relax is the aim of the Southlands Property Owners Association.

The future welfare of the community cannot develop from suggestions or ideas voiced over a back fence or a cup of coffee.

Suggestions, ideas, or objections can do much more good if voiced at a meeting of the Association.

All residents are invited to attend the next meeting at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 7, in the Kirby school. Harry Trevarthen, executive secretary of the Tinley Park Chamber of Commerce will be the speaker. He will advise and inform pertinent details relating to a community swimming pool, a subject to which he has given a great deal of study and research.

Home again from a two week vacation to Clearwater, Fla. are Mr. and Mrs. Nickolas Bink and family. They report an enjoyable time visiting friends and sight-seeing. Kenny and Ruth enjoyed swimming.

More fun than was anticipated was enjoyed by neighbors who attended the barn dance at the Kirby School last Saturday evening.

Not only did the professionals join in the dances, but so did every couple in attendance.

Dr. Ahner's calls were carried out by each set and as each dance ended and another began the fun and enthusiasm grew.

The refreshment committee was kept busy serving cake and soft drinks to the exhausted but happy dancers.

The working committees of the Southland's Property Owners Association compiled their efforts to afford the community with a wholesome entertaining evening.

Three weeks ago, John Nalepka suffered a broken ankle when he fell from a scaffold he had made.

He erected the scaffold three feet above the ground in an effort to reach the rain gutters on his house. He will be in a cast three months.

When we think of accidents, we cannot forget the one Arthur Bettenhausen had with his tractor three months ago. Mrs. Bettenhausen reports however that he is progressing nicely.

2. Only adults should operate machines on roads at night.
3. Keep children away from farm machines.
4. Don't stunt or show off.
5. Never dismount while machinery is in motion.
6. Always hitch to the tractor drawbar.
7. Loose clothing should not be worn around moving parts.

38 Guests Have Wonderful Time at Birthday Party Despite Rain

By MRS. ALBERT REEVES

Clothes were dampened but not the spirits of the 38 guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reeves who were caught in the down pour while touring the countryside on hayracks on the occasion of Larry Reeves 14th birthday Sunday, July 27.

The sun was shining when the two racks, donated by the Russell Bettenhausens, left the Reeves' home loaded with laughing and singing parents and young people. "Sing for rain," suggested Russell Wirtz. They sang. And it rained. Dripping, all scurried for the nearest refuge—the garage and home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McAllister who hospitality was greatly appreciated.

Back at the Reeves home, amidst much laughter, guests changed from wet clothing into "just anything," and the party took on a hard times appearance.

With Mrs. Roy Janes presiding over the hamburgers on the charcoal burner just inside the back door from where gusts of wind carried occasional clouds of smoke thru the house, guests enjoyed a barbecue and pot-luck dinner. Birthday cake was served for dessert at which time guests sang 'Happy Birthday' to Larry who, because of his wonderful party, the nice gifts and cards he received, thinks he is just about the richest boy in Alpine.

Dancing was enjoyed in the living room and when the sun came out some played ball in the yard. All had a good time.

Guests were from Riverdale, Dolton, Chicago, Roseland and rural Orland.

Vogue Dolls redesign their wardrobe every year along with the layette and baby clothes of their infant "sister", Ginnette and the two new brothers, to set the pace for doll society. "Time was when a doll had one dress—and that was it", said Cinderella Shop toy buyer, Martha Jankun. "Today, clothes make the doll and the manufacturers make the clothes with an eye to styling and detail that's comparable to the effort put into life-size clothing."

This was amply illustrated at the Cinderella Shop, where some of the most impressive new styles for this year's Vogue line were worn, in faithful life-size replica by a group of seven local girls and boy. Going thru their paces behind the floodlights like practiced mannequins to the commentary by Mrs. V. J. Nelson, were the models each carrying a Vogue doll with a matching costume.

Three Party Tickets and Four Independent Candidates in Race

(Editor's Note: In editing Country Club Hills column last week an addition was erroneously made for which Chloe White had no responsibility. It was stated that the Achievement Party had made up its state at a public meeting. As far as can be determined the state was not selected at a public meeting.)

The political race is becoming hotter as each day goes by. The deadline for filing petitions was Aug. 1 and as of that date three states had filed as well as four independent candidates.

The latest entry to file as a state was a party which is to be known as the Independent voters Party.

Their candidates are: mayor, Lawrence M. Simon, 18151 S. Patrick; city clerk, Irene W. Cobb, 4430 W. 177th Place; city treasurer, Cecil M. Crawford, 4651 W. 183rd street; aldermen, Donald E. Mangold, 17344 South Crawford ave.

It has no candidate for Police magistrate and has endorsed Louis Duernick, 4641 185th street the Suburban Life party, nominee for the post.

William Marquardsen, 4720 182nd Place, has filed as an independent candidate for mayor. James P. Martin, 4600 W. 185th street has filed as an independent candidate for alderman.

At a recent meeting of the Suburban Life party the following people were named committee chairman; ways and means, Robert Landeen, with Clyde Bennison and Marvin Beste as committee members; finance, Russell Alsip and general chairman of meetings, Donald Schwenk.

The Suburban Life also voted to incorporate as a non-profit organization in order to be a chartered party.

First fund raising event planned by the ways and means committee will be a "pancake rally" to be held on Sunday morning, Aug. 10 from 7 until 10:30 o'clock. The event will take place in the back yard of the Gene Landenbergers, 4530 181st Place with all the candidates serving. The menu will be all the pancakes you can eat, plus, bacon and coffee. There is a charge.

Committee chairman of the Achievement party were also made public this week. The Homeowner's Association will hold its "Meet the Candidates" night Monday, Aug. 11 at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be held in Saenger hall in Tinley Park which was donated for the evening.

Each candidate will have three minutes in which to speak and a question and answer period will follow.

William Hastings, president, will be on vacation at that time so Dell Forsgren was appointed to act as president, pro tem, during his absence.

Business and Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

A highly reputed weekly magazine, U. S. News & World Report, has an interesting resume of the present financial situation in its "NEWSGRAM" of August 1, 1958 issue. In part it states:

"Cold War — itself will go on. Disarmament will remain a receding prospect not a growing one. East Europe will continue to be held captive by Soviet Russia. Korea, Indo-China will go on being divided danger spots.

The article predicts U. S. and British will stay in Lebanon and Jordan unless a U. N. force takes their place as to do otherwise would turn over this area to Nasser and the Reds thus giving them control of almost 70 per cent of the world's known oil reserves and thereby possible final control of the industrial life of Western Europe.

Western Europe's rapid industrialization and rising living standards, must have oil to operate and it would be most difficult for the U. S. A. and the western hemisphere to supply these needs without use restrictions of our own and with considerable shock to our own industrial growth. Such an event would also put an added strain on our debt as we tried to keep our allies from industrial stagnation with resultant political and social upheavals. A "cold war" can be as deadly as a "shooting war" and very expensive.

The article mentioned also notes, "Recession, by late 1958 is likely to be a fading memory. Debt gradually will take the place of recession as a worry. Government deep in red and going deeper, must borrow $3 billion to $10 billion in the year ahead. Lenders, however are not rushing to lend their money to the Government except at higher rates of interest than Government thinks it should pay. Result: Government in effect - thru the Federal Reserve - is having to buy its own bonds, and on a pretty large scale. So what. So the money supply is being expanded and forces of inflation stimulated again. Government finances are not in healthy condition. In 1917 government debt was $1 billion; in 1920 after World War I it was $26.3 billion and reduced to $15.3 billion by 1930; in 1940 it was $42.4 billion; in 1949 it was $249.5 billion; now it is close to $275 billion and rising."

Shearson, Hammill & Co., a leading investment house, reports the most recent report of its consulting economist on current condition and future trends. This economist, Dr. Colin Clark, director of research for Econometric Institute is well known in financial circles. Dr. Clark took a very favorable view of the outlook and expects a steadily increasing output for the balance of 1958 and accelerated upward move in 1959. His forecast steel production at the rate of 110 million tons by January and at maximum practical capacity by 1960.

For the paper industry, he forecast a slower recovery with capacity operations in 1961. He believes outlook for the construction industry is excellent and expects steady increases over the next several years. Recovery is expected in automobile demand next year, but doubts that former peaks in output or profitability will be reached for some time. He also looks for strong improvement in demand for lead and zinc, but that recovery in copper are only moderate. New techniques for aluminum extraction along lines of direct recovery announced two years ago by Alcoa are anticipated - lower prices for aluminum as a result and substantial increase in consumption.

No Profits, No. Business

"Before World War II the telephone system in Greece was run by Siemens, a privately organized and profit making German company that welcomed new customers and even paid a commission for them. After the war Siemens, as enemy property, was confiscated and the State Organization of Telecommunications for Greece was established.

This transfer was immediately followed by a drop in general efficiency. In a short time the firm that, as a private company, had been making enough profit to pay good salaries and commissions went into the red. . . . It again goes to prove that alert and carefully managed private enterprise is far superior to government controlled business."

And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit unto the measure of his life?—(St. Matthew 6, 24.)

Long before psychiatrists linked physical ills to mental anxiety and tension, St. Matthew knew the futility of worry. His remedy—perfect trust in God's loving mercy and providence—is still the best prescription for adding to the fullness of human life.
